"We are delighted to have been awarded the Lexcel quality mark by the Law Society. The successfully completed Lexcel accreditation will be in place for the next three years – subject to independent annual assessments", says Ian Gavin Brown, senior partner at William Sturges Solicitors.

Lexcel is the Law Society's quality mark for excellence and has been awarded to the 9% of legal practices that have demonstrated that they have met the pre practice management standards covering case management, office administration, financial management, risk assessment and good customer care.

Gavin Brown comments: "Providing our clients with the highest levels of client care has always been at the heart of what we do. This accreditation is tangible proof of our commitment to delivering a quality service to all our clients. The team at William Sturges has worked hard to make sure that our systems reflect our commitment to our lawyers and support staff should be justly proud of their achievement".
